A Day in the Life of a C.I.T.

You'll begin your day with a walk to breakfast with everyone from the unit you are sleeping in. After breakfast, you will meet up with the unit you've been assigned and stay with them assisting with activities until it is lunch time.

After lunch, you'll head back with the girls in your sleeping unit for turtle time. At 1:50 p.m., you will be back in your assigned unit to assist with afternoon activities. From 1:50 p.m. until dinner you will assist with scheduled activities and help with supervision of the girls to the dining hall. You will stay with your assigned unit during evening activities until shower time. You will then go back to your sleeping unit for the rest of the evening.

On cookout night, you will stay with and assist your assigned unit at their/your cookout until clean-up is finished and the girls are ready to shower. You do NOT have girl shower duty. This is your time to go back to your unit and interact with the girls in your cabin/tent.

As a C.I.T., you'll have the opportunity to visit trading post, swim, and participate in other camp activities (such as horseback riding at Camp Bette Perot or kayaking at Camp Gambill or Camp Rocky Point), if you would like, when your assigned unit goes to these activities.

On Friday, you'll spend from breakfast until lunch with your assigned unit assisting the girls with packing, cleaning, morning activities, etc. After lunch, you will pack and clean your sleeping quarters and stay with your sleeping unit until departure.

Remember, even though you are assisting staff, you are still a camper and cell phones/ computers/ iPod's and/or other similar items are NOT allowed at camp.

Please note that the times and days are subject to change as plans for each session are finalized by camp staff. Each week poses different sessions and activities; this schedule is just what is typically done each week.
