

A large, stylized sun with yellow rays and a yellow face, serving as the background for the page.

 Girl Scout Gold Award[®]
gogold

Guidelines for Girl Scout Seniors and Ambassadors

Your Name: _____

Guidelines for Girl Scout Seniors and Ambassadors

Since 1916, Girl Scout's highest award has stood for excellence and leadership for girls everywhere. Soon, you will be joining the ranks of generations of young women who have made a difference in their communities and beyond.

As a Girl Scout, you are part of the sisterhood of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, a movement composed of more than 10 million girls worldwide who are using their talents to positively affect their communities. With your talent and passion, you, too, can make changes in your community that reach people around the world.

The Girl Scout Gold Award is the most prestigious award that Girl Scout Seniors and Ambassadors can earn. Fulfilling the requirements for the Gold Award starts with completing two Senior or Ambassador Journeys or having earned the Silver Award and completing one Senior or Ambassador Journey. Each Journey you complete gives you the skills you need to plan and implement your Take Action project.

After you have fulfilled the Journey(s) requirement, 80 hours is the suggested minimum amount of time for completing the steps: identifying an issue, investigating it thoroughly, getting help and building a team, creating a plan, presenting your plan, gathering feedback, taking action, and educating and inspiring others. The suggested minimum hours are not a rule; they are a guide for you to plan your time in achieving your goal.

Standards of Excellence

When you decide to earn the Girl Scout Gold Award, you are on your honor to uphold the standards of excellence. These standards set a high benchmark for everything you do and invite you to think deeply, explore opportunities, and challenge yourself. Following the standards of excellence challenges you to develop yourself as a leader, achieve the Girl Scout leadership outcomes, and make a mark on your community that creates a lasting effect on the lives of others.

Girl Scout Gold Award Steps and Standards of Excellence

Steps	Standards of Excellence
1. Choose an Issue: Use your values and knowledge to identify a community issue you care about.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Live the Girl Scout Promise and Law.• Demonstrate civic responsibility.
2. Investigate: Research everything you can about the issue.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Use a variety of sources: interview people, read books and articles, find professional organizations online. Remember to evaluate each source’s reliability and accuracy.• Demonstrate courage as you investigate your issue, knowing that what you learn may challenge your own and others’ beliefs.• Identify national and/or global links to your community issue.
3. Get help: Invite others to support and take action with you.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Seek out and recognize the value of the skills and strengths of others.• Respect different points of view and ways of working.• Build a team and recruit a project adviser who will bring special skills to your Take Action project.
4. Create a plan: Create a project plan that achieves sustainable and measurable impact.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lead the planning of your Take Action project.• Work collaboratively to develop a plan for your project that creates lasting change.
5. Present your plan and get feedback: Sum up your project plan for your Girl Scout council.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Submit a project proposal to your council that is concise, comprehensive, and clear.• Describe your plan, including the Girl Scout leadership outcomes you want to achieve and the impact you plan to make on yourself and the community.• Articulate your issue clearly and explain why it matters to you.• Accept constructive suggestions that will help refine your project.
6. Take action: Take the lead to carry out your plan.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Take action to address the root cause of an issue, so your solution has measurable and sustainable impact.• Actively seek partnerships to achieve greater community participation for your Take Action project.• Challenge yourself to try different ways to solve problems.• Use resources wisely.• Speak out and act on behalf of yourself and others.
7. Educate and inspire: Share what you have experienced with others.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Reflect on what you have learned when you present your Girl Scout Gold Award final report to your council.• Summarize the effectiveness of your project on you and your community.• Share the project beyond your local community, and inspire others to take action in their own communities.

Girl Scout Gold Award Toolkit

Stay organized and keep track of your ideas, contact information, appointments, and plans with the Girl Scout Gold Award Toolkit. This toolkit includes a standards of excellence tracking sheet, tips, planning guides, and advice to help with each step of your Take Action project. Use these tools as you need them—and don't forget that the Journeys include tools and ideas, too!

1. Choose an issue.

Use your values and knowledge to choose a community issue that you care about. Check out the decision-making tips in your toolkit. If you have more than one issue that you are passionate about, interview others to help you decide. Practice making your pitch, and see how it feels. You can also make a 15-second video, write a bumper-sticker slogan, or come up with another fun way to sum up why this issue is important to you.

Tools:

- Decision-Making Tips
- Interview Tips
- Making-Your-Pitch Tips

2. Investigate.

Use your sleuthing skills to learn everything you can about the issue you've identified. Zoom in on your issue to pick a specific aspect of it that you would like to address, because focused effort has more impact than a big idea that's scattered.

- Log on: Check news sites and the sites of organizations related to your issue. Explore how the media in other countries cover your issue. Note: Before doing your online research, take the Girl Scout internet safety pledge at www.girlscouts.org/internet_safety_pledge.asp.
- Go to the library: Find books that offer in-depth analysis about your issue, read your local newspaper, and look for magazine articles that offer different perspectives.
- Interview people: Talk to your friends, neighbors, teachers, business owners, and others who can offer information or insight about the issue you've chosen.
- Knowing the various causes of a problem enables you to figure out unique ways to solve it. Use the mind-mapping tool in your toolkit to create a diagram that tracks a problem and its possible causes.

Tool:

- Mind-Mapping Tool

3. Get help.

Invite other people to join your team to support your efforts and help you take action. Consider reaching out to classmates, teachers, friends, and experts from organizations and businesses. Networking with people can make you a more effective leader. Also, the more people you have behind you, the more likely you will positively influence your community. You are the leader of your team—plan your project, motivate your team, learn from others. Choose a project adviser, a person with expertise in the topic of your Gold Award project. An adviser can help you identify resources, provide insight, solve problems, and provide additional background information on your chosen issue.

Tools:

- Teaming Tips
- Project Adviser Tips

4. Create a plan.

Going for the Girl Scout Gold Award requires you to address the root cause of an issue and, thus, make a lasting impact in your community—take a look at the sustainability tips in your toolkit for ideas. Create a plan that outlines the best use of your time and talent, your resources, and your team’s talents, making the most with what you have—that’s your challenge!

Tools:

- Project Planner
- Planning and Budgeting Tips
- Sustainability Tips

5. Present your plan and get feedback.

Fill out the project planning checklist in your toolkit to organize your thoughts and make sure you have everything you need before you hand in your project proposal form to your Girl Scout council for approval. Include what you’ve learned, why your project idea matters, with whom you’re teaming, and your plan for making your project sustainable. Girl Scout council approval is required before you may continue working on your project. Once your project is approved, take a look at your project planner from step four. Do you have everything you need?

Tools:

- Project Planning Checklist
 - Project Proposal Form
-

6. Take action.

Lead your team, and carry out your plan. Use the tools you have developed in the previous steps, and remember to check your Journey(s) for tips. If you hit a speed bump along the way, learn from it and find ways to adjust your plan.

7. Educate and inspire.

Tell your story, and share your results. You can inspire someone who has never before considered taking action to do something! Use the Reflection Tool in your toolkit to identify how this experience has affected you and how your views may have changed. Finally, complete your Girl Scout Gold Award final report, which is a comprehensive account of what you've done, with whom you've connected, the lasting impact you've made, and what this experience has meant to you.

Tools:

- Sharing Tips
- Reflection Tool
- Girl Scout Gold Award Final Report

Congratulations! Celebrate! Be sure to thank your project adviser, your team, and all the other people who helped you along the way.

Standards of Excellence Tracking Sheets

Steps	Progress Notes and Significant Dates	Standards of Excellence
1. Choose an issue.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Live the Girl Scout Promise and Law. • Demonstrate civic responsibility.
2. Investigate.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use a variety of sources: interview people, read books and articles, and find professional organizations online. Remember to evaluate each source’s reliability and accuracy. • Demonstrate courage as you investigate your issue, knowing that what you learn may challenge your own and others’ beliefs. • Identify national and/or global links to your community issue.
3. Get help.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Seek out and recognize the value of the skills and strengths of others. • Respect different points of view and ways of working. • Build a team, and recruit a project adviser who will bring special skills to your Take Action project.
4. Create a plan.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lead the planning of your Take Action project. • Work collaboratively to develop a plan for your project that creates lasting change.

Steps	Progress Notes and Significant Dates	Standards of Excellence
5. Present your plan and get feedback.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Submit a project proposal to your council that is concise, comprehensive, and clear. • Describe your plan, including the Girl Scout leadership outcomes you want to achieve and the impact you plan to make on yourself and the community. • Articulate your issue clearly, and explain why it matters to you. • Accept constructive suggestions that will help refine your project.
6. Take action.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Take action to address the root cause of an issue, so your solution has measurable and sustainable impact. • Actively seek partnerships to achieve greater community participation and impact for your Take Action project. • Challenge yourself to try different ways to solve problems. • Use resources wisely. • Speak out and act on behalf of yourself and others.
7. Educate and inspire.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reflect on what you have learned when you present your Girl Scout Gold Award final report to your council. • Summarize the effect your project has had on you and your community. • Share the project beyond your local community, and inspire others to take action in their own communities.

Decision-Making Tips

You are about to make a big decision that will significantly affect your life (and may even change it forever). Take some time to reflect and get inspired. Start with yourself.

- What inspires you? Is it something in your school, community, country, or the world?
- What motivates you to take action? Is it people, events, activities, or places?
- What skills, talents, and strengths do you have to offer?
- How do you want to make a difference? As an advocate for justice? A promoter of environmental awareness? As a trainer, mentor, or coach? As an artist, actor, or musician? As an organizer of petitions or campaigns? As an entrepreneur? Can you think of another role?
- What motivates, inspires, and interests others? Can you build a team to support your idea?
- What would benefit the community both immediately and in the long-term?
- Check back through your Girl Scout leadership Journey(s). What interested you that you might be able to translate into an award project?

Need some inspiration?

Check out these sites to see what others are doing to address issues in their community.

- » Corporation for National and Community Service
- » Global Citizen Corps
- » Global Youth Action Network
- » Global Youth Service Day
- » Prudential
- » Taking IT Global
- » United Nations' Millennium Development Goals
- » World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts
- » Start Empathy

Interview Tips

Find out what you need to prepare, and conduct an interview.

1. Making arrangements: decide whom you would like to interview, contact the person, and set up a date and time.

2. Preparing: gather research and background information to help you formulate questions to ask the interview subject(s). Use these sample interview questions to get you started, and then add some of your own. If you need help choosing an issue, you'll want to ask the following types of questions:

- What are the biggest challenges/problems that you have faced or are facing?
- What do you think is the root cause of these issues?
- What will it take to address these issues?
- Are there any resources available to do that?
- What do you consider to be the strengths of the community?

If, on the other hand, you've already chosen an issue, move ahead to the interview.

3. Conducting the interview: bring a notebook to take notes. Here are some tips:

- Find a quiet place where you'll have each other's full attention, and agree to turn off your cell phones.
- Start by thanking the interviewee for her/his time, and then briefly describe your project.
- Keep questions simple and related to the issue at hand. Do your research. Preparation is key!
- Ask the person you interview if she or he would like to hear more about your project as it develops.
- Send a thank-you note to everyone you interview within a week of the interview. Mention the possibility of a follow-up interview.

4. Reviewing information and setting up a possible follow-up interview: your interview is over. Now what? You have to sift through to find the information that's relevant to what you are working on. If there are some gaps that you need to fill, contact your interview subject(s) to get more information and to find out whether or not you have your facts correct. Remember to check and recheck your facts!

Making Your Pitch

You've seen the advertisements, and most times you even remember the slogans. What makes them memorable? Maybe they're clever or catchy or funny. Now that you've chosen your issue, think of a way to let people know about it. You should be able to describe the issue you've chosen in about 15 seconds. Here are some tips to help you do that.

- Make it memorable: Develop a slogan. What makes you remember the slogan in those commercials on TV? How can you incorporate that into your pitch?
- Target your audience: Who are you trying to reach? If you are aiming for kids, think of a story or riddle that would relate your topic to them. Young kids love to rhyme. If you're reaching out to adults, no cute stories! Think about your audience and try to tailor your pitch to connect with them.
- How you will help: You have their attention with your story. Now tell them what your project will do to make their lives better.
- Personalize it: Why this project? Why this target audience? How will doing this make you a better person?
- Do it: Put it all together. Explain your idea in a short and motivating way that clarifies for you and your potential team, target audience, and supporters. Remember, 15 seconds. Go!

Mind-Mapping Tool

Create your own mind-mapping diagram like the one shown here, using one of the issues facing your community. Follow these instructions.

- Write the community issue in the middle of the paper.
- Think about what some of the causes of this issue could be. In this example, one of the main causes of car accidents is bad weather. Notice how many different causes connect from bad weather.
- Now, try connecting the different causes you come up with to each other and to the main issue. How do the causes connect to each other?
- Do you see a pattern?

This activity will help you come up with different ways to approach a problem, as well as different ways you might go about addressing it.

Teaming Tips

Think about the people who might be able to help you put your project into action. Choose people who will stick it out until the project is complete. You don't have to limit your team to people your age or Girl Scouts. Working in a group will help you make a bigger impact and cover more ground than you would on your own. It might be challenging at times, but remember to always be honest and fair, friendly and helpful, considerate and caring, and responsible for what you say and do. Here are a few tips to keep in mind as you build your team:

- Promote a sense of trust and belonging.
- Share ownership.
- Clarify roles and responsibilities.
- Communicate regularly and openly.
- Respect diversity.
- Have fun and be creative.
- Be open to new ideas and different ways of working.
- Keep learning and growing.

Project Adviser Tips

Here you'll find tips for selecting and working with your project adviser.

- Reach out: You've figured out the issue you're going to address with your project. Now it's time to find an expert to help along the way and give you advice and suggestions. Ask your troop/group volunteer or your council for suggestions. Then, select a few people who are related to your issue area with whom you'd like to work.
- Safety first: Before you meet with new people, talk to your troop/group volunteer for some safety tips and do's and don'ts. Make sure your family knows who you're talking to and meeting with.
- Ask: Start with your first choice, and if she or he can't help, go to your next choice. (Hint: There may be many others who are willing to help!) Approach the people you selected one at a time. Introduce yourself by sending a brief letter or email, explaining what you're working on and the advice you would like. Give some background. Then give an estimate, asking about time commitments and which way would be best to communicate.

- Say thanks: When an individual accepts, send her or him a thank-you note along with a brief description of your project and a list of areas where you think you'll need the most help.
- Think ahead when asking for help: Before you compose an email or call your project adviser, think about how you can simplify a problem you're having so that she or he can offer quick suggestions.
- Share your progress: Make sure to tell your project adviser (in a quick email or phone call) about your progress and how her or his help is making your project better, easier, and so on.
- Celebrate together: After your project is completed, invite her or him to your Gold Award ceremony and/or your own celebration.

Project Planner

A Take Action project addresses the root cause of an issue, produces impact that is measurable and sustainable, and is local while also linking to a national and/or global issue. Here are a few tips to help you lay out your project plan:

Set project goals:

What is your project? _____

Why does it matter? _____

Who will it help? _____

The difference I intend to make in the world is _____

• Steps to meet the goals: List step-by-step what it will take to reach your goal. Be as specific as possible so you can put together a timeline and draw on your team to help you reach your goals.

• Develop a timeline: Determine how much time you should allot for each part of your project.

- Think about money-earning: Brainstorm ways to finance your project. If needed, speak with your Girl Scout troop/group volunteer to make sure your ideas align with the Girl Scout policies. Check with your council. Remember, you can make an impact without spending money by influencing policy.
- Establish a global link: Consider how to connect your project to an issue that affects people in other parts of the country or the world.

Use the following questions to determine what you need and what you need to do.

- What would you like to achieve with your project?
- How do you plan to achieve this project goal?
- What are the foreseeable obstacles?
- Aside from your team, troop/group volunteer, and project adviser, do you need anyone else's help?
- What supplies will you need?
- If necessary, how will you earn money or fundraise?
- How will you measure your success?
- How will your project create lasting change?

Planning and Budgeting Tips

It's budget time! Start by figuring out what you need and where you can get it for little or no cost, if possible. If it's not possible, think about how much your materials will cost and how you can cover those expenses. Use your influence and leadership skills to come up with ways you can make a difference that might not include earning money.

Step to Achieve Your Goal	What Resources and Materials Will You Need?	Where Can You Get the Resources and Materials?	How Much Will They Cost?	How Do You Plan to Cover These Costs?

Does Your Plan Sound Doable?

If not, take a step back and refocus. Try to find a different angle to pursue. Work with your troop/group volunteer, project adviser, and Take Action team to find solutions to problems and obstacles that come up along the way.

Sustainability Tips

Girl Scout Gold Award projects are not “one shot”—they create lasting change. You can ensure a lasting project by setting clear timelines, collaborating with community organizations, building alliances with adults and mentors, and keeping good records. Sustainability often involves influencing others to pitch in. Here are some examples of sustainable projects.

Example #1

Community issue: Food waste from school lunches poses a danger to the environment.

Root cause: No community composting or recycling program.

Take action: Create a food-waste composting program for the school.

Making the solution sustainable:

- Work with school officials to find biodegradable plates and cups to use in the cafeteria.
- Work with town/state food-waste officials to ensure the composting system is in place.
- Implement a plan in your school to separate cafeteria waste into composting, recycling, and trash bins. (Farmers can use the compost to fertilize crops, improve the quality of the soil, decrease soil runoff, and so on.)
- Get a commitment from school administrators to continue the program when your project is complete. To tie your project in to a national level, recruit students at schools in the area to develop the program for their schools and/or contact local and state officials about adopting the program.

Global link: Find out how people in other parts of the world deal with food waste in schools. What kinds of programs do they have in place? How can you learn from these?

Example #2

Community issue: Teen suicide.

Root cause: Lack of suicide awareness and prevention.

Take action: Establish an awareness and prevention program.

Making the solution sustainable:

- Produce a short video that can be used in other communities with an online brochure outlining the steps to an awareness and prevention program.
- Share the video and online brochure with schools and community organizations.

National link: Share the program with local youth groups, health/human services agencies, community centers, church/synagogue/mosque community centers, or your school district.

Project Planning Checklist

Make sure you've met the below requirements before submitting your plan for council approval.

- Will your project demonstrate your leadership skills?
- Have you set your project goal and identified what you would like to learn?
- Have you chosen your Take Action team? Have you discussed the project with them?
- Have you created a budget for the project?
- Have you created a plan to raise funds, if necessary?
- Have you made a timeline for your project?
- Does your project address a need in the local community, and have you found national and/or global links?
- Is your project sustainable?
- Does your project challenge your abilities and interests?

Once you answer yes to all the items on this checklist, you're ready to submit your Girl Scout Gold Award project proposal.

Sharing Tips

It's time to tell others about what you did, what you have learned, and the effect you hope your project will have on its intended audience. Your story may inspire others to take action to make their community better!

Here are a few suggestions for how you can demonstrate your project achievements and share what you learned:

- Create a website or blog or join a social networking site (Facebook, Instagram, etc.) to post updates and details about your project and its influence on the national and/or global community.
- Log on to some Web sites where you can share your story:
 - » World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts
 - » Taking IT Global
 - » Global Youth Service Day
- Create a campaign that showcases your cause. Make buttons, posters, and flyers to hand out.
- Present what you have learned and what your project will do for the community at a local workshop.
- Make a video about the effects of your project. Post it online. Invite friends, community leaders, and people from like-minded organizations to take a look at it.
- Write an article for your local newspaper, or create a newsletter about your project.

Reflection Tool

Reflection is more than talking about your feelings; it's about thinking critically, solving problems, and interpreting and analyzing the results of your experiences so you can gain a better understanding of who you are. After you complete your project, take some time to assess yourself.

1. Which values from the Girl Scout Promise and Law did you employ?

2. Which new leadership skills have you developed?

3. How are you better able to advocate for yourself and others?

4. How has your access to community resources and relationships with adults changed as a result of this experience?

5. How important has cooperation and team building been in developing your leadership skills?

6. What changes would you make if you were to do this project again?

7. Has this experience helped you get an idea of what your future career might be?

8. Now that you have planned, developed, and taken action on your project, how are you better equipped to pursue future/life goals?

