Two Seasons of Fun

Spring and Summer Program and Camp Guide

2025 | girl scouts of northeast texas

Your Girl Scout Adventure Starts Here!

We've got everything you need to make this spring and summer unforgettable. Check out the exciting programs lined up with our talented staff and innovative partners. We're adding new experiences all the time, so be sure to bookmark and visit our website and check back often for the latest updates—and book early for lowest prices and the most options.

Also, it's always good to plan your summer camp experiences early, while spaces remain and prices are low (more on that later!).

Troop leaders: You're at the heart of the Girl Scout experience, and we're here to support you!

You're helping shape the future for your girls, and we want to make it easier for you. Let our events and workshops lighten your load! We offer a variety of affordable badge and journey programs for all grade levels, so you can focus on what really matters. Share this guide with your troop and ask them what they'd like to explore this year.

Hey, Girl Scouts! This is your journey, and Girl Scouts is all about YOU!

Maybe your troop already has some plans, but you're itching to try something else—like drones, a Grand Prix competition, pen-turning, or a fun family event. You don't have to wait for troop time to explore! Sign up for workshops that are tailored to your interests to add exciting adventures to your Girl Scout year.

Not in a troop?

That makes you a Juliette Girl Scout, and just like our founder, you're forging your own path! Whether you want to try something new or go on an adventure, it's all up to you. Tell your adult what you're interested in and sign up for the experiences that interest you.

Under this flap you'll find our map to your year of fun!

Weekend Camping

Adventure, team building, and a break from it all in nature! During the fall, winter, and spring, troops and families can book weekend stays at Camp Bette Perot (Palestine), Camp Gambill (Sumner), Camp Kadohadacho (Pottsboro), or Camp Whispering Cedars (Dallas).

Minimalist and rustic? Choose a camp property that provides options to pitch your own tent or level up with our platform tents to snooze under the stars.

Need walls and heating/AC? Each property (excluding Kadohadacho) offers different cabin sizes and amenities to suit your group's needs.

Free Activities

Camp Bette Perot
- Lawn games
- Books and board games
- Marked hiking trails

Camp Gambill
- Lawn games
- Books and board games
- Marked hiking trails

Camp Whispering Cedars
- STEM walk backpacks
- Books and board games
- Geoquest self-guided trail and smart tablets and more!

Reserved Activities

Seasonally available additional activities led by our trained camp staff may be reserved for additional fees.

- Boating (canoe, kayak, paddleboard)
- High/low ropes and giant swing
- Horse rides and badgework
- Fishing
- S'mores
- STEM workshops
- Swimming
- Target sports (archery, slingshot, knife/axe throwing)
- Greenhouse tour

Meal service

Leave the meal planning and prep to us! While many of our guests enjoy cooking their own meals over a fire or in their shelter kitchen, for an additional fee our camp staff will dish up delicious meals so you can spend more time having a blast with your campers. Meals are currently available for purchase at Bette Perot and Whispering Cedars.

New Camp Price Structure

Skills for Life: How Summer Camp Shapes Future Success

Camp isn't just an opportunity to have the best summer of your life and make memories for a lifetime. It's also an investment in their future success in life–including school, work, personal pursuits, and relationships. Beyond the immediate benefits your Girl Scout makes at camp, she'll also...

- Step out of her comfort zone to build confidence and self-esteem, learning to face new challenges and try new things without fear.
- Build teamwork and leadership skills that will help her work well with others in school and later in her career.
- Grow her independence with the confidence to face life's challenges and become a strong, capable person.
- Improve social and emotional skills while playing and learning with others from different backgrounds. This helps her understand emotions, be kind to others, and better communicate.
- Develop a positive attitude by celebrating successes and learning from mistakes. Our caring staff supports her through both good times and tough moments, helping her stay optimistic and keep growing.

Camp Staff Highlight

We're excited to introduce our dedicated visitor experience coordinators at each camp! These team members are part of our professional year-round camp staff and are here to support you and your camper every step of the way to chat with you about special support your camper may need and answer your questions about the camp experience. They are also your point-people during camp to give you the confidence that your Girl Scout is getting the care she needs to enjoy her best summer yet.

Renee "Dory" Pierson

Camp Bette Perot

Favorite spot at camp:
Either the Observation Deck above Mustang Lodge or the dock at the pond because they both can be so peaceful and great spots to watch beautiful sunrises and sunsets.

Best camp memory:
When I was able to help a camper realize she had the tools to work through her panic, anxiety and fears, giving her so much more self-confidence and she was able to jump off the diving board like she had been wanting to do for several summers.

Favorite camp tradition:
Opening and closing campfires when everyone is together to celebrate the week.

Victoria "Slugbone" Taylor

Camp Whispering Cedars

Favorite spot at camp:
Our outdoor swimming pool and our Moody Tower. The tower has such an amazing view of the property and of DFW.

Best camp memory:
When a group of non-Girl-Scouts came to us to experience camp for the first time. They were so excited from the start, and they ended their time here with the same excitement. The girls asked me questions about my job, the animals we have on the property, and things I enjoy at camp. The girls personally invited me to have dinner and s'mores with them. This memory means so much to me because the girls were unfamiliar with camp, but they were positive. Additionally, they made me feel like a kid again.

Favorite tradition:
S'mores, because it combines practicing/learning fire safety with having a fun and delicious treat.

Liz "Honey" Wilson

Camp Gambill

Favorite spot at camp:
The dining hall—not because of the food (though it is delicious!) but because of the history. It's a Gambill original!

Best camp memory:
This past summer we had a very emotional closing campfire. It was incredible to see the impact we had on the girls that came to visit us, and seeing that they didn't want to leave was very heartwarming.

Favorite camp tradition:
Singing "Linger" at closing campfire. It's a great way to end the camp week with a nice heartfelt song.

Is Your Girl Ready for Week-Long Sleepaway Camp?

Deciding whether a Girl Scout is ready for sleepaway camp is a family responsibility. Your camper's success begins with managing expectations and evaluating the factors that will make camp a positive experience. Talk openly about the opportunities and challenges of sleepaway camp with your Girl Scout. Here are some questions that can help you decide if sleepaway camp is right for her at this time:

Ask your camper:

- Do you want to go to sleepaway camp?
- Is your caregiver ready to let you go to sleepaway camp?
- Are you eager to try new things and make new friends?
- Have you had fun at sleepovers and can you get yourself to sleep at night when away from home?
- Do you like forming bonds with girls your age and caring adults?
- Are you ready to stay in a diverse group environment that offers limited opportunities for privacy?
- Can you manage your own belongings and get dressed in activity-appropriate attire? (Getting in and of your swimsuit, for example.)
- Are you eager to experience independence in a safe, caring, fun environment?
- Can you manage your own hygiene, including bathing, toothbrushing, hair care, sunscreen, and bug spray?
- Are you committed to working through feelings of homesickness you might experience? (Our staff are prepared to help support you through this natural response.)
- Both Girl Scout and caregiver: how will it feel to not have direct contact for a week–no phone calls, email responses, or other direct updates? (Contact can be made in case of emergency.)

Leadership Experiences at Camp Bette Perot

Counselor-in-Training (CIT) entering grade 9-12

Register at www.gsnetx.org/betteperot

There are three parts of the CIT leadership program:

1. Team-building and personal exploration with their peers
2. Assisting counselors with an activity of their choice
3. Mentoring with younger groups

Leadership activities fit around the regular camper experience, like activities and fun with friends. it's a great development opportunity for all girls–even if being a counselor is not in their future.

CIT 2 (CITs returning for a second summer) will have some new experiences and opportunities to learn more about camp behind the scenes.

Wrangler-in-Training (WIT) (application only)

WITs rise early and spend the day working with barn staff to catch, feed, saddle, and move horses. You'll work in the barn, help younger girls on and off their horses, lead trail rides, and demonstrate turns, trot, and lope in arena classes. You'll also enjoy camp favorites like swimming, archery, evening activities, and fun with friends. Application available online spring of 2025. Must be 14 by start of camp and be able to saddle and bridle independently as well as be comfortable at a walk, trot, and lope.

Camp Bette Perot

Brownies-Ambassadors. Home to our herd of nearly 100 horses, Camp Bette Perot is our largest camp property. At the barn, girls will earn badges and learn under the guidance of current and former Tejas Riders. Like all camp activities, opportunities for horseback rides increase as a camper progresses. Sessions run Sundays through Fridays.

Book February 3-March 31: $650/week | Book April-Summer: $700/week

Activities include:

- Daily barn time
- Swimming
- Archery
- Slingshots
- Ropes course
- Campfires
- Craft
- Campfires
- Badgework

Week 1: June 9-14
Week 2: June 16-21
Week 3: June 23-28
Week 5: July 7-12
Week 6: July 14-19
Week 7: July 21-26

Fifth graders meet the epic challenge of Raccoon Ridge platform tents.

Platform tents are the original Girl Scout camp experience and foster a camper's progression, grit, and accomplishment. The tents in Raccoon Ridge have wooden floors, wood support frames, heavy canvas roofs, giant fans, and beds equipped with bed nets, cubbies, and twinkle lights. Counselors are ready to help campers conquer challenges and learn what they are capable of.

Activity customization for grade 5 and up

When they get to camp, these older Girl Scouts get to customize their week by selecting their activities based on their interest and availability. Everyone has barn time each day, but in other activity slots, she can focus on what interests her.

Buddy Requests

We attempt to honor one mutual buddy request between campers of the same grade level. A buddy can be comforting, but we also encourage all girls to make new friends. If you want to camp with a larger group, please explore Troop Camp at Camp Gambill this summer.

High school Girl Scouts who like helping out younger campers and are ready for leadership, check out our Counselor-in-Training (CIT) and Wrangler-in-Training (WIT) programs on page 8.

Register at www.gsnetx.org/betteperot

Camp Gambill

All Ages. Bring your troop or family to our waterfront camp for a four-day, three-night outdoor adventure that includes all activities and meals. Camp staff provides memorable experiences while families and troop volunteers look after their Girl Scouts. Cabins in the Frog Unit sleep up to eight. Cabins in the Sleepy Unit can accommodate up to six. Select your cabin and pay according to the number of troop or family members. Sessions run Thursdays through Sundays.

We Value Diversity

We are thankful to have a diverse group of campers and staff joining us this summer. Girl Scouts can expect the opportunity to live and play with girls who are different from one another. These differences may include geography, family structure, race and ethnicity, culture, appearance, ability, interests, and more.

Safety is our top priority

Safety at GSNETX camps is a top priority. Camp staff and volunteers are trained in emergency procedures and required to report any unexpected persons or other concerns. Our camp properties are equipped with security gates that remain closed. Access to properties is limited to campers, staff, certified program providers, volunteers, and delivery vehicles.
